Dear Joshua:

OCT 9 - 1967

Thanks for your recent letter and kind remarks about the World Food Study. It is certainly true that the planning and implementation of an effective action program is a big job which is still ahead of us. It will take all the help we can get to persuade the Congress and the public that the task is urgent.

In response to your specific request, I am happy to enclose:

1. A copy of the latest effort by the Panel on Educational Innovation, entitled "Educational Opportunity Bank" (together with press release). Members of the panel are listed on page 17 of the report.
2. A list of PSAC reports.
3. A study of the effects of the sonic boom, conducted under my overall direction at Edwards Air Force Base and released by the Department of Transportation.

I have seen your column in the Washington Post and regard it very highly.

Sincerely,

Donald F. Hornig
